Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Luegley, Publisher.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,790

It is with sorrow that the people of this city will learn of the death last evening of Fred B. Mudgett, who for a score of years has been a prominent citizen of Barre.

Newspaper men in Vermont will regret to learn that poor health has caused Robert H. Mattison to give up his position on the editorial staff of the Rutland Herald. He is one of the most entertaining and versatile writers the profession has in this state. All will unite in wishing him well in his new location in the West.

Something new in the line of political yells, which beats any college production, has been dug out on the New York East Side in this election contest. See if you can figure out in whose candidacy it goes:

"Hoist, Hoist,
Hoist, Hoist,
Hoist, Hoist,
He is not the worst;
We are for Hoist,
Last and first."

GOOD FOR SUPT. GROUT!

Another case of alleged ill treatment of patients by their attendants has developed at the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury, and two men are under arrest until the gravity of the charges can be determined. From time to time such charges are made, but in few instances are the alleged offenders brought to time. Apparently, however, new methods came in with the new superintendent. Dr. Don D. Grout acted with a quick determination. When the charges were brought to the attention of the superintendent he conducted an investigation immediately, as the result of which the attendants concerned made preparations to leave town. But they got no further than the depot for a sheriff was waiting for them there, and the men were placed under arrest, to be held until the grand jury should ascertain if they could be held for trial. The two men may or may not be guilty of hitting a patient last Tuesday and of mistreating others. It is to be hoped they are not, but allegations of so serious nature cannot be allowed to go unchallenged. The people of Vermont and those in particular who have relatives and friends placed in the asylum for proper treatment will applaud the prompt action of Superintendent Grout in instituting an investigation at once of this case. He thereby showed his purpose of keeping a firm grasp on the situation in the institution over which he has charge; in other words, that he is to be superintendent.

THE PRESIDENT'S IMPRESSION ON THE SOUTH.

Now that the South has discharged its full obligation in the entertainment of President Roosevelt, it is interesting to note the impression which the chief executive made on that section. Although the President was of an opposite political belief from the great majority of the people of the South and although he had, some time ago, trod vigorously on their feelings in his dining with a negro, Booker T. Washington, the welcome which was tendered was of the most hearty order. The Southern people held in abeyance whatever dislike they had for the man and received him with cordiality. By his open-heartedness the President disarmed their suspicions, and gradually won their approbation, until mere hospitality became uproarious friendliness, and finally there came absolute surrender. Were President Roosevelt to be a candidate again, he probably would not be able to break into the South's solid phalanx for Democracy, but there would be a weakening of the structure. Still, that is out of the question, for he has repeatedly said that he will not be a candidate.

With that in view, the Savannah, Georgia, News has been prompted to say of the President's trip: "Unquestionably it is true that President Roosevelt, while on this trip, has created a most excellent impression among Southern people. He has trod upon none of the laws that make up the code of social and racial ethics in the South, nor has he voiced any sentiment so utterly at variance with Southern usages and customs as to offend the most sensitive. By the sensible attitude he has adopted, by the unprejudiced and unbiased nature of his speeches he has made, and by the easy and graceful manner in which he has come personally in contact with the leading citizens of the places he has visited he has won friends and admirers." This estimate of the Savannah paper is a typical portrayal of the impression the President made on the South. He succeeded in making an impression which is the most to be sought for, that he is the president of all the people and not of any particular party, nor of any narrow section.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A Clever Scheme.

If any Vermont editors have accepted the proposition of a western firm to furnish them free supplements, they will doubtless be pleased to learn that there is reason why they are offered "something for nothing." A clever attack on the proposed "parcel post" system is said to be artfully concealed in the reading matter of these sheets. The distribution of ready-print supplements should bar a paper from second-class postage rates anyway.—Brattleboro Reformer.

DAN PATCH'S WORK.

Equalled the World's Pacing Record at Memphis Yesterday.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Dan Patch equalled the world's pacing record yesterday afternoon, going the mile in 1:59 1/4, equaling Star Pointer's time. The mile was made with a runner at his side. No regular meeting is being held here and it is not thought the record will stand.

Gentlemen, are you ready? What is your decision? Is it to be a Double-breasted Sack Suit, or the long Single-breasted Business Suit, or the right fitting Walking Coat? The evening Full Dress Suit or Tuxedo? J. Pierpont Morgan with his "fifty-seven varieties" cannot have more than these six styles for practical purposes. All the correct Suits are here.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

JUST A GIRL.

Many a throne has had to fall
For a girl,
Just a girl;
Many a king has had to crawl
For a girl,
Just a girl.
When a hero goes to war
He may battle for the right
But 'tis likelier by far
That he sallies forth to fight
For a girl,
Just a girl.

Papa murmurs with dismay
"What a girl!
Just a girl!"
Ah, but why the sadness there?
Why the bitterness displayed?
Some day some strong man will swear
That the great round world was made
For that girl,
Just that girl.

Why did Adam take the bite?
For a girl,
Just a girl.
Oh, would heaven still be bright,
And would any good man care
To achieve it if he might
Never claim forever there
Just a girl,
Glorious girl!

PANIC-STRICKEN GIRLS.

Paper Box Factory People Had Narrow Escape.

New York, Nov. 4.—Two hundred girls and fifty men, at work in Frederick Neff's paper box factory at King and Greenwich streets, were thrown into a panic last night by the outbreak of a fire which completely destroyed the building.

So quickly did the flames spread, and so dense was the smoke that rapidly filled the place, that less than fifty of the young women had time to get out by the stairs. The rest rushed to the windows and to the fire escapes, where they stood helpless and panic-stricken until they were rescued by the firemen, who carried them down ladders to the street. Many fainted and were carried down unconscious. All escaped unhurt.

NOTHING TO IT.

Eastern and American Leagues Are Not to Be Combined.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 4.—President Harry L. Taylor of the Eastern Baseball league said yesterday, relative to published statements intimating that he might lead a movement looking to the combining of the Eastern league and the American association by taking four of the strongest clubs of each association and forming a new league, that there was nothing in the story. His object, he said, would be to keep the Eastern league intact. Several of the clubs needed strengthening and it would be his earnest endeavor to help them along so that the fight next year would be a more equal one.

Collision Near Athol.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 4.—A special to the Telegram from Athol says:

"Two freight trains on the Fitchburg division of the Boston and Maine figured in a rear-end collision one and a half miles east of Athol this morning. Fifteen cars were thrown from the track and the wreckage caught fire from the rear locomotive. They were two extra freights, all west-bound.

Twelve Fast Rounds.

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 4.—Young Kenney of Lawrence, and Willie Cornell of Lowell went twelve fast rounds before the members of the Unity club last night. The referee called the bout a draw at the end of the twelfth round.

COLLEGIANS' SERIOUS PRANK.

Greased Rails of Electric System at Ithaca, N. Y.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The lives of a score of trolley car passengers were placed in great peril Thursday night by a prank of several Cornell students. The street car rails at a curve on a dangerous grade, a short distance above the deep Cascadilla gorge at the edge of the Cornell campus, were greased with soap evidently to cause the motorman to lose control of his car while descending the hill. As a car approached the curve several students jumped from behind trees and grabbing the rope at the rear of the car pulled the trolley pole off the wire. The motorman and conductor managed to replace the pole in time to reverse the power and check the speed of the car as it passed over the slippery rails. Manager Post of the street railway company said yesterday that had a less experienced motorman been in charge nothing could have prevented the car from leaving the rails at the curve and that in all probability it would have been precipitated into the deep gorge.

The matter is regarded as a criminal attempt to wreck a car and has been placed in the hands of the district attorney and police. The railway officials say that if the offenders can be captured they will prosecute them to the full extent of the law.

Junk Thieves Sentenced.

Middlebury, Nov. 4.—On complaint made to State's Attorney Russell Thursday, James Mitchell, Patrick McMann, Leon Auchman and Harry and Lewis Brusso, who were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Cobb on the charge of petit larceny, and arraigned before Judge Foote yesterday. The charges were for pilfering of iron, lead, brass, etc., and selling the same to George Steele, a dealer in junk. The boys all pleaded guilty except Lewis Brusso, who was discharged. Mitchell and McMann were sentenced to the Industrial school at Vergennes and Brusso and Auchman were fined with costs $7.60 each, which their fathers paid.

On information given by the boys, George Steele, who purchased the plunder, was arrested on a charge of receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be such. He denied that he knew the junk had been stolen, but to save time he pleaded guilty and was fined $7.10, which he paid, and was discharged.
